Harriet Adeline Barnes Vaught, Aug. 13, 1908 - Jan. 6, 1986

Harriet Adeline Barnes Vaught, 77, of Carmi, was found dead in her home Monday. Born in Carmi on Aug. 13, 1908, daughter of Claude Miller and Sarah Ellen Berry Barnes, she was a descendant of White County pioneer families, including her grandfather, Dr. Daniel P. Berry, surgeon to the 87th IL Infantry of the Civil War; her great-uncle Col. John M. Crebs, and great-grandfather Capt. James Adam Miller, the founder and first president of Carmi's First National Bank. She was educated at schools in Carmi and Riverside, CA, and at Lindenwood College. As a genealogist, she had published several books of White county records. She was a member of the Carmi First Presbyterian Church, the White County Historical Society, founder of the Carmi Junior Aid, and a past member of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Surviving is one son, Thomas M. Vaught of Niantic; three grandchildren, Adam, Laura, and Grant Vaught; and locally, two cousins, James C. Odam and Olive Chapman Bitt, both of Carmi. She was preceded in death by a son, Daniel Berry Vaught, on June 22, 1955. The family requests that memorial contributions be made to UNICEF. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Donald Campbell Funeral Home with Father Joseph C. Hays officiating. BUrial will be in Maple Ridge Cemetery. Friends may call from 5 to 8 p.m. Wednesday.
