J.L. [James Lemuel] May 1832 - Jan. 17, 1901

J.L. Hudson died at his home on Oxford Hill last Thursday, his death being due to heart disease. Mr. Hudson was born in Boonville, Warrick county, IN, and came to Grayville about 20 years ago. He was a school teacher and taught school in both Indiana and Illinois. While teaching in Indiana some years ago, one of his pupils was ex-governor John R. Tanner. Several years ago he gave up teaching school and devoted his time to the office of Justice of the Peace of Gray township, to which office he had been elected twice. He was also at one time a member of the Board of Education. He was a member of the M.E. church and the G.A.R. post of this city.

Mr. Hudson was about 68 years old and leaves a widow and four children to mourn his death. The funeral took place last Saturday, the services being conducted by Rev. Resho Robertson, pastor of the M.E. church of this city. Interment was at Antioch cemetery, six and one-half miles north of the city.

Mollie Potter, July 13, 1870 - Jan. 20, 1901

Mrs. Mollie Potter, wife of Frank Potter, a prominent farmer living at Calvin, died at her home Sunday morning of quick consumption, after an illness of about three months. Mrs. Potter, whose maiden name was Miss Mollie York, was a daughter of A.J. York of this township. She was born in Hendricks county, IN, July 13, 1870, and came to IL with her parents in 1874, growing to womanhood here. On Apr. 12, 1892, she was united in marriage to Frank Potter. To them were born one child - a son - who survives the mother.

Mrs. Potter was a member of the Baptist church, having professed religion a short time ago. The funeral took place Monday, the services being held in the M.E. church at Calvin, and conducted by Elder H.A. Todd of this city. Interment was in the Charles cemetery.

Julius J. Catlett, - Feb. 17, 1901

At 8 o'clock last Sunday morning, the death messenger entered the home of Mayor and Mrs. J.J. Catlett, and laid claim to their eldest child, Julius J. Two years ago, while the boy was visiting relatives in Evansville, he was injured by the kick of a horse, and never fully recovered from the effect of it, though had been confined to his room but a few days when the end came.

Julius was 18 years of age - a bright boy, just entering into manhood, and his loss is a deep affliction to his parents; how deep only those can realize who have parted with a child in the early prime of life. The remains were taken to Evansville Monday morning, and the funeral was held at the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. Linxwiler, at two o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. G.W. Williams, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, conducting the services. The remains were laid to final rest in Stinson's cemetery, in Perry township.

Those who accompanied the bereaved family to Evansville were Rev. G.W. Williams, Ms. S.E. Hamilton, Harry Blood, W.O. Pope, James McKay, Geo. White, Charles Higginson, and William Ramsey. To Mayor and Mrs. Catlett is extended the sympathy of the entire community.

Charles Timothy Butler, Aug. 7, 1868 - Feb. 26, 1901

The funeral services over the remains of C.T. Butler, who died Feb. 26, were held at the residence of his mother Thursday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. B.W. Bass of the Christian church. Interment was at the city cemetery.

Charles Timothy Butler was the youngest son of Henry O. and Mary A. Butler; was born in Grayville, IL, Aug. 7, 1868, and had until his death made his home with his mother most of his time. About two years ago, he joined the Christian church and decided to live a christian life, in which he has devoted himself more faithfully in the last year. During his illness, he bore it with patience, thinking it was the will of God, and was perfectly willing to go at his call. He was very thankful to his friends for their kindness to him during his afflictions, hoping that God would bless them. He was aged 32 years, 5 months, and 19 days. He leaves a wife, one child, a mother, and a host of friends to mourn his death.

[Mary Jane] French, Aug. 31, 1837 - Feb. 28, 1901

Mrs. French, wife of Dr. G.W. French, died at her home in this city last Friday morning. Her death was due probably to general debility. She had been in poor health for some time. A few days before her death she lost her reason, which probably added to her sufferings. Mrs. French had been a resident of Grayville for about 10 years, coming here with her husband from Kansas, where they had lived for some years, in 1891.

Mrs. French was a member of the Christian church, having been converted when quite young and was a conscientious Christian, always attending church when possible to do so. She was nearly 64 years old and leaves a husband, a daughter, and two grandchildren. Short funeral services were held at the residence Friday evening, conducted by Rev. B.W. Bass of the Christian church, and the remains were taken to Owensboro, Ky, Saturday, for burial.

John Pritchet, ~1863 - Feb. 28, 1901

John Pritchet, who had been sick with consumption for a number of years, died at his home in this city last Thursday. He was aged about 38 years, and leaves a wife, two children, and a father and mother to mourn his death. Mr. Pritchet was a good and honest man and while able to work was very industrious. He was a member of the Christian church and, when able, was fond of attending services.

During his last moments, he said he was not afraid to die and was waiting for the angels to appear. He also said he wanted to meet all his friends in heaven. The funeral services were held at the family residence Friday, being conducted by Rev. B.W. Bass of the Christian church. Interment was in the city cemetery.

James C.T. Hall, 1819 - Mar. 6, 1901

The Rev. James C.T. Hall of Albion, IL, who died there last week, was aged 82 years. He was a well-known minister of the Christian church in southern Illinois and moved to the State when a child with his parents from Ewell, Surrey, England, in the year 1821, and, with the exception of a few years spent in Grayville, he resided continuously in Albion.

He came of distinguished family, his parents having resided on their estate in England given one of the Halls by William the Conqueror in 1066, and recorded in the Doomsday book. One of Elder Hall's sisters was the wife of Judge Walter L. Mayo, who so mysteriously disappeared from a train at East St. Louis on Jan. 17, 1878, and another sister was the mother of Judge Christian C. Kohlsaat and Herman H. Kohlsaat of Chicago. Elder Hall was the last of a long-lived family, three of the members reaching an age of 75 years and three others living beyond the age of 80 years.

Vic[tor] J.B. Clarke, Jan. 23, 1839 - Mar. 13, 1901

The remains of Vic J.B. Clarke, who died in Evansville last Wednesday, were brought to this city last Wednesday evening and the funeral took place from the C.P. church Friday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. J.L. Hudgins, of Albion, and Rev. G.W. Williams of this city. Interment was in the city cemetery.

Mr. Clarke was born near Phillipstown on Jan. 23, 1839. He came to Grayville in 1854, learning the printer's trade in the office of the Herald, which was edited by his father, J. Ed. Clarke, and he was connected with the paper (now the Independent) in some capacity until his death. In 1860, Mr. Clarke was married to Miss Caroline Berry. To them seven children were born, all of whom except one are living. His wife died last fall after a long illness, since which time he has failed in health. Several months ago he entered a sanitarium in Evansville with a hope of regaining his health, but although several operations were performed upon him he gradually failed until the end came.

Mrs. [William] Dawson, 1831 - Mar. 18, 1901

Mrs. Dawson, a widow lady who has been making her home with her son, Ludlow Dawson, a farmer residing several miles west of the city, died Monday, aged about 70 years. The funeral was held yesterday, interment being in the Ridge cemetery west of the city.

James Fitzgerald, - Mar. 26, 1901

James Fitzgerald of Mill Shoals, died at that place yesterday of pneumonia. "Fanny", as he was familiarly known, was an old time resident of Grayville and his death will cause deep regret there. He was quite a character and was well liked by his acquaintances. He was a saw mill man, having worked the greater part of his life with timber. He was honest, kind-hearted, and as faithful a friend as ever lived. Little more could be said of much greater men.

He leaves no family. Two sisters reside in Grayville, Mrs. Crowder and Mrs. Coogan. He was a half brother to Richard and Sam Frizzell, the latter a conductor on the Big Four.

Isadore [Isadora] Shaw, Dec. 29, 1844 - May 19, 1901

Mrs. Isadore Shaw, wife of Will Shaw, a prominent farmer living about six miles west of the city, died last Friday of a complication of diseases. She was about 58 years old and leaves a husband and four children to mourn her death. Of the children two are sons and two daughters. They are Sidney and Charlie Shaw, Mrs. J. Seifferman and Mrs. M. Johnson. Besides these Mrs. Shaw leaves two brothers, Charlie and Eff Hall. The funeral took place from the Ridge church Saturday, the services being conducted by Rev. J.W. Cummins, of Olney, IL. Interment was in Ridge cemetery.

Frank Fearn, 1830 - May 15, 1901

Frank Fearn, one of the most prominent farmers of White county, died at his home west of the city last Wednesday of pneumonia, after a short illness. Mr. Fearn was born in Darby, England, and came to this country when 15 years old, settling in White county with his parents. He lived here nearly all his life. During the civil war he went to the front and fought for his country.

He was nearly 72 years old and leaves a widow and eight children to mourn his death. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon from the Ridge church, the services being conducted by Rev. Ressho Robertson of this city. Interment was in the Ridge cemetery.

Rienzi James Adams, 1895 - June 17, 1901

Rienzi James Adams, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Adams, died of the bowels. He was sick over a week, and on Monday it was decided to perform an operation in the hope of saving his life, but he was too weak to stand the operation and died immediately. Rienzi was about 6 ½ years of age.

He was a bright little boy and will be sadly missed by his parents and brothers and sisters. The funeral took place from the family residence yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, being conducted by Rev. Bass, pastor of the Christian church. The remains were then laid away in Oak Hill cemetery.

Sewall [Saywell] Perkins, Mar. 29, 1830 - June 22, 1901

Rev. Sewall Perkins, an old resident of Edwards county, who a few years ago, became an inmate of the State Soldier's Home at Quincy, IL, died at the home on Saturday June 22, of blood poisoning. The remains were conveyed to this city, Monday, arriving on the Big Four, and from this city, taken to Albion, where they were interred in the cemetery.

Mr. Perkins was at one time a resident of this city, but later moved to Edwards county. He was a member of the G.A.R. Post, having been a soldier during the Civil War. He was a Congregational minister and preached at different places in Edwards county for years. He was about 71 years old and leaves several children to mourn his death.

Merida Greer, May 1, 1830 - June 28, 1901

Merida Greer died very suddenly at his home in this city last Friday afternoon of heart disease. He was aged about 71 years and leaves only two children to mourn his death, all the other members of the family having preceded him to the unknown world beyond. Mr. Greer was born in Dubois county, IN, and came to this city from Owensville, IN, about 13 years ago. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon. Interment was at the city cemetery.

Theo[dore Paul] Emmerich, Apr. 1, 1857 - July 27, 1901

Theo. Emmerich, of this city, who has been in Mt. Carmel for several months, conducting a bakery there, died very suddenly in that city last Saturday evening. He had been working hard all day and had laid down to rest in an adjoining room. A short time later, his little daughter went to call him, but could not awaken him, and it was found that he was dying. A physician who was called gave the cause of his death as heat prostration.

Mr. Emmerich was born in Konigstein, Saxony, Germany, Apr. 1, 1857. He left Germany at the age of 18 years, coming to Carmi, where he worked a while at his trade, and later went to Cincinnati to work. In the latter city, he was married to Miss Barbara Angert during the year 1881. Three years later, Mr. and Mrs. Emmerich came to this city, where Mr. Emmerich opened a bakery, and they have resided here ever since. Twelve children were born to them, of whom all are living except one. Mr. Emmerich was a very industrious man and he worked incessantly in the bakery, building up a good business. A few months ago, he opened a branch bakery in Mt. Carmel and was having good success when death cut him down.

Besides his sons and daughters, he leaves a widow, all of whom have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. The funeral took place Sunday. The remains were brought to this city on the Big Four Sunday morning and taken to the family residence, from whence they were later taken to the German church north of Cowling, where the services were held. Interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Charles R. Hall, 1842 - Aug. 12, 1901

Chas. R. Hall, a former resident of this city, died at Hot Springs, AR, Monday afternoon, after an illness of several years' duration. The remains will arrive in this city via the Big Four this morning for interment, the funeral to take place from the residence of G.P. Bowman this afternoon.

Mr. Hall was for years a resident of this city, coming here when quite young. He was in the drug business for several years but sold out some 14 years ago to go north. Some time after leaving here, he contracted rheumatism and he suffered for a number of years. Everything possible was done for him, the family even taking up their residence in Hot Springs, AR, hoping that the baths there would finally effect a cure; but to no avail, and he died, suffering to the last. Mr. Hall was about 58 years old and leaves a wife and 5 children to mourn his death.

David Wooden, July 23, 1860 - Aug. 13, 1901

Dr. D. Wooden died very suddenly at his home in this city early yesterday morning. He had not been feeling well for several days, but his ailment was not considered serious and the announcement of his death was quite a shock to the community. His death was due to congestion of the stomach and bowels.

Mr. Wooden had been a practicing physician here for a number of years. He served as alderman of the Third Ward for one term and at the time of his death was president of the Board of Education. He was about 41 years of age and leaves a widow and one child to mourn his death. The funeral will be held from the family residence this afternoon and will be under the direction of Grayville Camp, No. 1974, Modern Woodmen of America, of which order deceased was a member. Interment will be in the city cemetery.

Margaret "Peggy" Green Boultinghouse, 1818 - Oct. 23, 1901

Mrs. Margaret Boultinghouse, one of the oldest residents of Gray township, died at her home southwest of the city last Thursday morning, of winter fever, after only a few days' illness. Mrs. Boultinghouse came to this county years ago and settled on the farm which she died, the land having been purchased from the government. As the records of her birth were destroyed by fire in Indiana years ago, it is not known just how old she was, but it is thought she was between 87 and 90 years of age. She was married to Mr. Boultinghouse when about 18 years old and to them nine children were born, of whom five are still living, four being daughters and one a son.

Besides the five children, Mrs. Boultinghouse leaves a host of grand and great-grandchildren and many friends to mourn her death. The funeral took place from the ME Church at Calvin last Friday, the services being conducted by Rev. Ressho Robertson of this city, assisted by Revs. Schaffer and Gocker. Interment was at the Charles cemetery.

S[amuel] Keagy, Apr. 3, 1825 - Dec. 6, 1901

Rev. S. Keagy, father of Dr. S.C. Keagy of this city, died at the home of his son in Browns last Friday morning, aged about 76 years. Mr. Keagy had been an invalid for several years, having had a stroke of paralysis about 10 years ago, from which he never completely recovered. In addition, he had bronchitis and other ailments which hastened his death.

Rev. Keagy was a well-known minister of the United Brethren church, and had been in the ministry since 1864. He leaves a family of nine children to mourn his death, his wife having preceded him to the other shore only about two months ago. The funeral took place Saturday, interment being at Mt. Erie, the former home of the deceased.

Nancy [Ann Spencer] Cowling, Nov. 11, 1849 - Dec. 9, 1901

Mrs. Nancy Cowling, wife of Addison Cowling, a prominent Edwards county farmer, living about five miles north of the city, died yesterday morning of pneumonia and congestion. She was aged about 50 years, and leaves a husband and six children to mourn her death. She was a sister of Wm. Spencer and Mrs. Cicely Blackford, living west of the city.

Katherine Faiszt, July 10, 1827 - Dec. 9, 1901

Mrs. Katherine Faiszt, wife of John Faiszt, died at her home in this city on Monday, Dec. 9, 1901, of winter fever, aged 73 years, 4 months, and 29 days. Mrs. Faiszt was born in Wittenberg, Germany, July 10, 1827, and came to America in 1850, settling at Hamilton, Ohio. She was united in marriage shortly after her arrival at Hamilton to Mr. John Faiszt. To them, 12 children were born, of whom eight are dead, while four are still living, they being Messrs. George and Jake Faiszt of this city and two daughters, one residing in Indiana and one in Ohio. About three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Faiszt moved to this city from Indiana and they have made their home here since.

Besides the husband and four children, Mrs Faiszt leaves a sister, Mrs. John Hoerner, living near this city; a brother, who lives in Ohio; sixteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild to mourn her death. The funeral took place this morning, the services having been conducted by Rev. J.E. LaRosh at the United Evangelical church, of which deceased was a member. Interment was in the city cemetery.
